THE REVISED CASUALTIES

Revised figures made public by the war department show that the total casualties of the A. E. F. during the war were 286,044. Battle deaths numbered 38,909, and the total wounded was placed at 247,135, with the explanation that this represented a duplication of about 7,000 by reason of the fact that many men were wounded more than once.

SOMETHING TO GROW ABOUT

The hard working American hen is not wasting time worrying over that ancient question, "Which came first, the hen or the egg?" She is laying golden eggs by selling her products into foreign countries. To the other inhabitants of the barnyard, she may seem a little "cocky" these days, but did not the people of the United Kingdom pay the hen a compliment on her good egg laying qualities by taking $3,516,567 worth of American eggs in the eight months ended February this year? And did not Cuba take $2,415,304 worth? Total exports showed an increase of $2,227,544 over the same period of 1918. Showing how hard the hen worked lately, the total exports of eggs for the twelve months ended June 30, 1919, only amounted to $3,734,087.

PUBLIC MEN ENDORSE IT

State Supt. Thomas and President Chase of Bates College in Hearty Accord With the W. C. T. U. Jubilee Drive.

The following communications have been received by Mrs. Bessie S. Oxtun, key financial woman for the Maine Woman's Christian Temperance Union, who is successfully conducting the Jubilee Drive for that organization.

Augustus, May 12.
You must know that I am in the most hearty accord with the plans of the Jubilee. Your work in behalf of child welfare, Americanization, women in industry, health and moral education cannot help but result in good. There is much to be done and with all forces working industriously and in sympathetic cooperation very much may be accomplished. You have my best wishes and such assistance as I am able to give in the Jubilee drive.

Augustus O. Thomas,
[State superintendent of schools.]

Lewiston, May 12.
It is my deliberate conviction that the W. C. T. U. has been the most efficient factor in forwarding the work for national prohibition in the United States. It has been blessed with wise, devoted, and efficient leaders, and its work has been broad, far-reaching, persistent, well directed, and wonderfully effective. In my judgment, the W. C. T. U. is second to no other force in the State and the nation as a promoter of practical righteousness and of good citizenship. While its aims and efforts seem to be approaching a wonderful fruition and national prohibition seems almost an assured fact, it is unquestionably true that temperance workers are not over the top and that never was it more important than now that all who love righteousness and value good citizenship give their constant and vigorous support to the splendid organization that has wrought so much for our people and that must still lead the way to the triumph of those principles that it has so efficiently advocated.

HONORING THE SOLDIER

Gold Stripes or Silver Stripes, They Are the Same Kind of Boys.

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—
The following lines are taken from the Yankee Blade, a small paper printed at the Camp Devens Base Hospital:

THE OTHER SIDE

Darling, here's your hero boy:
Silver stripes instead of gold.
Shine upon my sleeve today,
'Cause I couldn't sail away.

But my darling, don't you boast,
You had to do it on your own.
No one thinks you had cold feet,
Silver stripes instead of gold.

David M. Macquarrie,
Chaplain, Camp Merritt, N. J.

Some people appear to regard the boys wearing silver stripes instead of gold as "home-made" soldiers. I think the white-stripeds are heroes as well as the soldiers with the gold stripes on their sleeves. They have done what they were told to do and showed their readiness to do their full duty for the good old U. S. A. I know one soldier boy who wears three silver stripes and is still doing his duty, waiting on the sick and wounded. When the influenza raged through his camp last fall and took off so many hundreds, this soldier stood over the sick and dying all night long for six weeks and helped care for them.

The difference between the silver stripes and the gold stripes is only one of luck. Every boy in his country's service was eager to get overseas and strike a blow at the Hun. Two million got over and two million more went in training here, the same kind of boys, every one of them doing his full duty. The gold striped was luckier than the silver striped because he got across. We owe them equal honor.

A Mother.
Whose son wears silver stripes.

GRAND ARMY ORDERS

Relative To Memorial Services in Methodist Church Sunday Afternoon and Memorial Day Services Friday, May 30.—No Parade This Year.

Headquarters, Edwin Libby Post, No. 16, G. A. R., Rockland, Me., May 19, 1919. General Orders No. 1.

Comrade:—Once more the time is drawing near when we shall meet to honor the memory of our departed comrades in arms. Therefore, the following services will be observed:
On Sunday, May 25, the comrades will assemble at G. A. R. hall at 2:30 p. m. for the purpose of attending the services at the Methodist church. The memorial sermon will be delivered by Rev. Mr. Osborne of that church. There will also be present with him the pastors of the other churches of Rockland.

The members of Winslow-Holbrook Post of the American Legion will be present in uniform, and act as escort.
On Friday, May 30, the comrades will assemble at G. A. R. hall at 1 p. m. to attend the services of Memorial Day. All the usual services will be observed. The oration will be delivered by Judge Frank B. Miller. Music by Eastman Orchestra.

All veteran soldiers and sailors of the Spanish war, and of the world war, the Woman's Relief Corps, the Sons of Veterans, and their Auxiliary, the members of the different orders of Rockland, His Honor, Mayor Thorndike, members of the city government, local press and the public generally, are hereby invited to help in the observance of the services of both Memorial Sunday and Memorial Day, and make their days of commemoration for those who went forth to do battle so long ago, and also those who have carried on behind the lines to victory in this great world war and thereby making it a better world for all mankind.

Oscar Bunt, Commander, G. C. Cross, Adjutant.

Former secretary Howard E. Berry is on the U. S. S. Cruise, Seattle, now making his first trip across in Y. M. C. A. transport secretary service, with rank of lieutenant. Another Rockland boy Ralph U. Clark, electrical gunner, is on the Seattle, and the two were glad to meet.

Mayor Thorndike Urges Re-investment of Second Liberty Loan Bond Interest in War Savings Stamps.

Re-investment of Second Liberty Loan Bond interest in Thrift or War Savings Stamps is urged upon the citizens of Rockland by Mayor R. S. Thorndike. The government made a semi-annual interest payment on the Second Liberty Loan, May 15, at which time a vast amount of money was turned over to investors in the Eleventh Federal District.

"Many of our citizens own Second Liberty Loan Bonds," the Mayor said. "The Treasury Department has urged that all who can take this interest money and re-invest it in Thrift or War Savings Stamps. By this means, they can turn their interest into more interest. It is profitable patriotism and I trust that the citizens of Rockland who own Second Liberty Bonds will do as the Treasury Department has requested."

"Arrangements have been made so that you can exchange your Liberty Loan interest coupons for Thrift or War Savings Stamps at the postoffice. Our postmaster has a sufficient supply of these government securities on hand to exchange for your coupons and will be pleased to accommodate you. War Savings stamps are always cashable at the postoffice on ten days' written notice."

"I appeal to all patriotic citizens of Rockland who own Second Liberty Loan Bonds to get Thrift or War Savings Stamps with their interest coupons, May 15. We have too much pride to do less than our neighboring cities. They are planning to roll up a big total in War Savings Stamp sales and to do it largely through their interest coupons. Let's get busy and make Rockland lead the procession."

PARK THEATRE

"The Birth of a Nation," a Wonderful Civil War Story, the Midweek Attraction.

The week is opening with a stirring detective story, written by Louis Joseph Vance. The cast is headed by Henry B. Walthall who is known as "The Lone Wolf" who is on an ocean steamer when it is torpedoed by a U-boat. He escapes death by reaching the submarine as it emerges. He climbs aboard and succeeds, when taken below, in establishing an identity as a German spy. Aboard this vessel, "Lone Wolf" is carried to a secret German hiding place for submarines near Martha's Vineyard. There he escapes and reaches New York. He has adventures, a plenty, swinging by a rope from the hoisting crane of an incomplete skyscraper to a building occupied by the enemy secret service in America.

The big event of the week will be the Griffith spectacle "The Birth of a Nation," which will be shown Wednesday and Thursday, together with "The Foolish Age," a rich comedy, and more Vid-a-Vit reels. But one performance will be given each afternoon and evening, and the regular prices will be slightly increased.

The fatal night of April 14, 1865, when President Lincoln was assassinated, is a scene in itself that would entitle "The Birth of a Nation" to a claim to greatness. The interior of Ford's theatre is reproduced to minute detail; there are hundreds of men and women in the audience attired in Civil War costumes, and the play itself is reproduced as it was presented before President Lincoln. The desire of Lincoln's bodyguard to see the play causing him to forsake his post of duty; the dramatic stand of J. Wilkes Booth before entering the President's booth and the cowardly shot from behind, the pandemonium that reigned, the leap to the stage, the rush to the President's box—all these are shown with so much realism that the audience is saddened at the memories of that national calamity—adv.

UNIVERSALISTS RAISE MONEY

The annual drive, conducted by the Universalist church last week, was successful in raising $400, which was $100 in excess of the quota, but none the less the welcome. The supper provided by Judge Campbell and other male housekeepers last Wednesday night put the men in such good fighting trim that $1700 was raised before the food had been digested. Next day the committees made a canvass of the city, and brought the total to the amount above stated, without infringing overmuch on older denominations. The executive committee comprised H. N. McLaughlin, chairman and the other members of the board of trustees—E. F. Berry, F. A. Thorndike, David Talbot, Mrs. C. M. Walker and Mrs. Emma Crockett. A full list of the ward committee has already appeared in these columns. The result of this successful drive was an increase of $390 in the salary of the pastor, Rev. Pliny A. Allen. Mr. Allen had not threatened to go on a strike, but there's always danger of losing a good man, and the shrewd members of the Universalist parish proceeded to forestall any such calamity.

The funeral of the late Frank J. Clough was held at his home on Gay street Sunday afternoon. Knox Aerie of Eagles conducted its ritual service and the funeral sermon was preached by Rev. W. L. Pratt. There were many floral offerings. The burial was in Sea View cemetery, members of Knox Aerie acting as bearers.

THE KNOX COUNTY WOMEN

Lent Loyal Assistance in Putting This County First over the Top in the Fifth Liberty Loan.

The compiling of the reports in the Victory Liberty Loan show that Maine women did their loyal share of the work in the nationwide organization. Knox county, which enjoyed the distinction of being first to go over the top with its quota, is unsurpassed by any Maine counties in percentage of sales credited to the women. The county was organized with these town chairmen:

Appleton—Mrs. B. H. Keller; Camden—Mrs. Emma J. Hosmer; Cushing—Mrs. E. S. Vose; Friendship—Mrs. S. K. Jameson; Hope—Miss Carrie Quinn; Matineus—Mrs. A. N. Ripley; North Haven—Mrs. Mary A. Mills; Owl's Head—Miss Katherine Emery; Port Clyde—Miss Edith A. Gilmore; Rockland—Miss Lillian M. Baker; Rockport—Mrs. Ralph W. Carleton; South Thomaston—Mrs. Cleveland Sleeper; Tenants Harbor—Mrs. Rena Andrews; Thomaston—Mrs. Helen Carr; Union—Mrs. Maurice Lovejoy; Vinalhaven—Mrs. J. O. Carver; Washington—Mrs. Charles Vanner; Warren—Miss Frances Matthews.

The following figures show how faithfully the women worked in cooperation with the men to respond to the call made upon them from national headquarters to help put across this first loan in connection with the great war:

	Total	Obtained
Town	Subscribed	By Women
Appleton	$6,000	$3,300
Camden	135,000	32,400
Cushing	7,450	2,700

THANKING THE PRESS

Liberty Loan Committee Graciously Says a Word of Commendation.

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—
The Victory Loan campaign is over. The complete results will not be known for a few days. The Liberty Loan Committee of New England will disband after forty years of active work, and pass out of existence. It has been a remarkable committee, in that its personnel has scarcely changed in the entire two years. The same people have worked together, believed in each other, and had faith in the righteousness of the work they were endeavoring to do. The great accomplishments are a matter of history.

Before going out of existence, the committee desires to thank you heartily for the help you have given in each town. Its spontaneity and its genuine success has been the finest kind. Without the help of the press, no great campaign can succeed, and you have the satisfaction of knowing that in one of the most important of war activities, the financing of the country, you have been of material assistance.

With every good wish, and with adding a sense of obligation, we are very truly yours,
John K. Allen,
Chairman, Publicity Committee.

JOBS FOR THE BOYS

Leslie Whitney Says There Are Plenty of Them To Be Had In Ohio.

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—
I notice in reading your columns that several of the home boys are arriving in Rockland, both from the Army and Navy. I fancy some of them may be having the same trouble that I did in finding a job, and some of them may be successful in landing one. If you happen to see any such, will you tell them to come to Akron, Ohio. There is work for everyone here. Just the one rubber company (B. F. Goodrich) will have a job for every man who was in any branch of the service, and a real job at that. I will be very glad to answer any questions that any of the fellows may ask. They can be sure of earning from $35 to $50 a week, in three weeks time.

I shall see the Willard and Dempsey fight July 4. All the present talk centers around that coming event. It sure seems like a breath of real salt air to read The Courier-Gazette twice every week, and believe me, there is some raving when it fails to arrive on time.
F. L. Whitney,
103 So. Maple St., Akron, Ohio.

The Home Service Department is taking no vacation, as many persons may have thought when they read the announcement that the Red Cross rooms would be closed through June, July and August. Each afternoon Sunday excepted, there is somebody on duty from 2 to 5 at the Home Service Department, which is in Room 4 on the second floor of the Post Office building. The telephone call is 616-B.

OLD FRIENDS
"Old friends! The writing of those words has borne
My fancy backward to the gracious past,
The generous past, when all was possible,
The old days when I was in the world,
Have taught some sweet, some bitter lessons,
None
Wiser than this,—to spend in all things else,
But of old friends to be most miserly.
Each year to ancient friendships adds a ring,
As to an oak, and precious more and more,
Without desertingness or help of ours,
They grow, and sturdier, wider spread, each year,
Their unthought ring of shelter or of shade."
—James Russell Lowell.

Twice-A-Week

CIRCULATION AFFIDAVIT
Rockland, Maine, May 20, 1919.
Personally appeared Neil S. Perry, who on oath declares: That he is president of the office of the Rockland Publishing Co., and that of the issue of The Courier-Gazette, May 16, 1919, there was printed a total of 5,825 copies. Before me, J. W. CROCKER, Notary Public.

Rockland is admirably located for new business enterprises in many lines and welcomes such. There can be no question as to the heartiness of such welcome exhibited when new concerns, with fresh capital, either little or much, have entered or sought to enter here. That spirit of cordiality will have no abatement on the part of those already in business here, but it is the part of wisdom to see that there is not over-duplication of the enterprises already carried on. No real prosperity can arise out of too many concerns in the same business. There is only so much aggregate trade to be had out of any community and there is such a thing as dividing this among so many that there shall be no living profit for anybody. This is a matter deserving the careful consideration of the Merchants Association, to the end that new industries may be encouraged to come to us, but with careful eye to those fields of trade and industry already sufficiently exploited, the further occupancy of which shall result only in loss and disaster to those already carrying them on.

Mayor Peters of Boston has vetoed the plan for a parade of the 76th Division in that city on the ground that it is "unwise, impracticable and undesirable," and the Boston mayor also notes that "while it did excellent work abroad, it has no military record as a division." Knox county is proud to have furnished so liberally to the 76th Division. While it did not reach the fighting front until the closing days of the war, it was one of the finest bodies of men that this country sent overseas, every unit of it eager for the fray and every man just as much a hero in the moral sense as those gallant soldiers who paraded Boston with the 26th Division, so recently. No tears will be shed at the lack of opportunity to march in triumph through the streets of the New England metropolis. Far more anxious were these men to get back to their homes and friends. Fuss and feathers count little beside that boon.

Should Congress at its special session fail to make provision for the continuance of federal employment service it would be very disappointing to many interests which have found it extremely practical and beneficial. In this city, alone, employment has been found by Agent D. D. Gould for 50 men who have been discharged from the service, and for several hundred other persons. The business and industrial situation throughout the country is rapidly clarifying with the result that there will be a more steady demand for labor, and the good offices of the Federal Employment Bureau will be even more generously sought. It is a public service in every sense of the word, with no charge and no fees. It is difficult to see how the government can afford to discontinue such an institution, if, indeed, it has ever contemplated such a course.

Rev. William J. Day, former pastor of the First Baptist church, is attending the Northern Baptist convention in Denver, and on the eve of his departure was much surprised to receive a check from his church in Winthrop, Mass., covering all expenses. In a letter to The Courier-Gazette, Rev. Mr. Day says: "I see that the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago is to conduct two Bible conferences, Gastine Aug. 24-31, and Camden Aug. 31-Sept. 7. I wish to say that this is an opportunity not to be missed by those who are interested in the word of God, and its bearing upon the times, as well as its place in the individual life. The men who will conduct these conferences are competent, sane, scholarly. Some of them have wide reputations as students of the Bible. It does not matter what denomination the individual belongs to, he will find in this conference that which will give him new vision and spiritual uplift. I venture to assert that those who attend this conference, with a right motive, will never regret it and many will say as in days of old, 'We never knew it in this fashion.'"

W. E. Parsons, commissioner of inland fisheries and game, was in the city for a few moments Saturday and exchanged greetings with H. L. Sanborn, director of sea and shore fisheries. Commissioner Parsons was accompanied by F. M. Perkins of Bradley, inspector of fisheries; Warden E. P. Besse of Thorndike and Civil Engineer H. E. Green of Waterville. They visited the Camden hatchery in the course of a long automobile tour, and from this city went to Thomaston and visited points on the Georges River.

The Great Eastern Fisheries Corporation has put three additional salesmen on the road and all are reporting unqualified success with "Porterhouse God," the new product which made such an instant hit. A small order was placed with Holmes, Swift & Co. of Augusta. The salesman's tracks were scarcely cold when Mr. Swift called the home office by phone, "it's the best thing in the fish line I ever saw," said he—and proved his sincerity by placing a large order.

The newspaper statement that Knox county jail had never been empty until a week ago Saturday failed to take into account the fact that there were four days under Turnkey Coburn's administration when the county hotel had no guests. This was while the late A. J. Tolman was sheriff.

A prominent business man cut a good ducking Friday when he fell from a wharf not far from this office. Being an expert swimmer there was never any danger that the family would have to cash in on the heavy life insurance which he carries.

THE SALVATION ARMY'S SIEGE

Sum of $1150 Pledged in the Initial Attack On Rockland—Elks Lodge Leads With $150.

Rockland's quota in the Salvation Army drive, which is being conducted this week throughout the nation, is $2725. Of this amount $1150 was raised yesterday, $500 being the fruits of last night's mass meeting in the First Baptist Church. A systematic canvass is now being made, and the quota is bound to be raised, any other result would brand as "hot air" the many kind words which have been said for the great organization since the war began.

The attendance last night was disappointingly small, and about 75 per cent was composed of women, but there was no mistaking the enthusiasm of the audience. The High School Orchestra played several selections most pleasingly, and Harold W. Greene's splendid tenor was heard in two selections.

Prayer was offered by Rev. W. L. Pratt, and Fred W. Night, chairman of the drive introduced Postmaster Donohue as presiding officer. Mr. Donohue paid a glowing tribute to the work of the Salvation Army at home and on the battlefield, summarizing its efforts in the statement that it works for the betterment of mankind. He told of a personal investigation which he made in London 10 years ago, on investigation which convinced him that the Salvation Army is a most worthy organization.

Adjutant Starbuck gave some interesting sidelights of the Salvation Army's work in France during the war, and paid his respects to the eternal rain and mud with which that country seems to be afflicted. The mud is one thing no soldier will ever forget. It is more like a mixture of Portland cement than anything else, he said.

Following Kaiser Bill was not much different from fighting the Devil himself; that's why we didn't have to learn all over again," declared Adjutant Starbuck.

The speaker said that the Salvation Army's slogan over there was "Service." He found the American soldiers huddled in sheep pens, cow-stalls and hay-lofts, but when he looked into the eyes of the soldiers he was convinced that the tent had been the better of it after all.

Adjutant Starbuck told how his forces set up a circus tent for headquarters. All of the available supply of point was exhausted long before the tent had been properly camouflaged, and somebody hit upon the expedient of using mud to complete the job. The kind of mud they have in France was shown by the fact that while the incessant rains washed off the mud from the tent, the mud itself was not washed off.

Women were not supposed to be at the front, yet 60 per cent of the Salvation Army workers were ladies who had been smuggled in somehow. The adjutant told how they fried doughnuts for the men in the trenches; how the long line of soldiers would form the moment the odor of frying doughnuts assailed their nostrils. Each man was given three doughnuts, but the adjutant is very certain that some of the men formed in line more than once. He told very amusingly how the women made a wonderful live story cake with alternate layers of cake, chocolate and jam; how it was taken to the commanding officer as a sample of what the Salvation Army could do if it had the proper supplies. The experience of success, and then Adjutant Starbuck was furnished with all the flour and sugar he could haul.

"We are asking," said Adjutant Starbuck, at the close of his address, "not only for money with which to carry on the Salvation Army's great work, but for your sympathy, help and friendship."

"Now is the accepted time," said Chairman Donohue, who proceeded to call for subscriptions. The first was $150 pledged by A. H. Jones in behalf of Rockland Lodge of Elks. A telegram from Robert Law, Jr., pledging $100, was then read. David Talbot, H. N. McLaughlin and W. J. Rich then pledged $50 each.

"What do you think of an Irishman begging in a Baptist church?" asked Mr. Donohue, who continued his appeal

You fishermen know good fishing gear when you see it, and that is the kind we are doing our best to provide for you. We have the best assortment we have ever shown, for you to select from. Come in and look it over.

Steel Rods $1.50 to $7.00 Bamboo Rods $2.50 to $10 with unabated vigor. Pledges of $25 each, came from The Courier-Gazette, William T. Cobb, Fred R. Spear and G. B. Wood. Then came the smaller amounts, the pledges or cash being taken by a corps of busy men and women.

The meeting closed with a short but interesting talk by Adjutant Emma Clifford of Portland, who told of her own experiences in meeting the returning soldiers, and who quoted from letters written by her husband, who is with the Salvation Army workers in France.

Chairman Donohue then announced that the subscriptions to date amounted to $1150.

CONVERTED MANY THOUSANDS

Salvation Army workers preached to 25,000,000 persons in the United States last year, according to statistics of Army activities given out at National Headquarters today. Of these 7,000,000 attended indoor meetings and 18,000,000 outdoor meetings. The number who declared themselves converted was 33,000.

New Buildings Coming

The Salvation Army is in the midst of a campaign on which the Salvation Army bases its appeal for the people of the United States to contribute $13,000,000 to its Home Service Fund this week is $6,500,000 for buildings. In the past, the Army says, it has been handicapped severely by lack of suitable buildings in which to carry on its work.

Salvation Officers Pensioned
Salvation Army officers, just like the officers in all other armies, are rewarded for long and faithful service by being pensioned when they are no longer able to carry on active work. In the $13,000,000 which the Army is asking the people of the United States to contribute to its Home Service Fund is included an item of $300,000 for pensions.

Big Sum For Children

The Salvation Army spends $300,000 a year in caring for women and children. This is devoted to the upkeep of 25 rescue homes and maternity hospitals, one general hospital, a children's hospital, three children's homes and 11 slum posts and nurseries.

Forty-five thousand prisoners were visited last year by Salvation Army workers assigned to prison relief. All of them were assured of a haven at Salvation Army institutions when they were freed, and 1800 availed themselves of this offer of temporary relief after discharge. Salvation Army employment

NEW POST ORGANIZED

Names of Officers Who Will Serve Until the American Legion Perfects Its Permanent Organization.

The temporary organization of Winslow-Holbrook Post of the American Legion was effected at Grand Army hall Friday night, when the following officers were elected to serve until such time as the National organization presents a list of officers required:
Commander—Walter H. Butler
Adjutant—E. C. Mudgett
Chaplain—Rev. Willard L. Pratt
Secretary—Joseph W. Robinson
Quartermaster—William G. Williams
Steward—Herbert Philbrook
Commander Butler appointed the following executive committee: Milton H. Griffin, chairman; William C. Palmer, John G. Robbins, Charles A. Rose, Jr., Hyman Alperin, Albert Peterson and Francis A. Curtis.

The matter of adopting constitution and bylaws was held in abeyance until the national organization presents the recognized form. The dues are $1 a year and prompt payment was made by the 50 or more members present Friday night. An invitation was extended to the new Post to do escort duty Memorial Sunday when Edwin Libby Post and allied organizations attend services in the Methodist church. Winslow-Holbrook Post was also asked to participate in the Memorial Day exercises. The invitation on behalf of the Post was extended by Post Commander Frank E. Lyward, who was most cordially greeted by the boys.

The steamship Camden will go on the Boston and Bangor route next week but the exact date is not certain. The steamer May Archer has been withdrawn from the Bluehill and Mt. Desert routes and will be replaced by the steamer Catherine which leaves at 6:30 tomorrow morning for Bluehill, and at 6:30 Saturday morning for Star Harbor. Both trips will be through Eggemoen Reach.

Tickets for the Elks Victory Ball are on sale at the Corner Drug Store by members of the committee and will be sold at the door on the night of the ball—the date is Tuesday, May 20.

EMPIRE THEATRE

The William Hart picture today finds the movie idol in a new role. Becoming a bandit for revenge against a railroad that has taken his father's ranch, Hart, as "Steve Ransom," finally reforms and succeeds in defeating the plans of German spies on the border to send a wireless message to Berlin telling when Gen. Pershing will sail for France. He seeks to enter the army, but his bandit past is exposed and only after his great service is he pardoned and accepted for service. A love story is introduced with pleasing results.

"The Vanity Pool" is the feature for Wednesday and Thursday, presenting Mary MacLaren in a story of political intrigue. Carol Harper is ambitious to become the wife of the governor and seeks to procure the nomination for her husband through the good offices of Diana, who is friendly with Flint, the political boss. While Carol is pulling wires Gerald is looking after her welfare work for her, and becomes interested in Marna Royal, who misconstrues his kind and natural interest and thinks he wishes to marry her. Diana discovers what she supposes to be an affair and seeks to compel Gerald, Gerald's friend, to marry her as the price of her silence. When he refuses she informs Flint, who says it has been handled severely. Gerald and Carol leave to start life anew without the clog of vanity, and Marna finds in Gerald the man she thought Gerald was.

"The Silent Mystery" has but two more episodes after today's. Don't miss the closing chapters—adv.

THE CENTENARY DRIVE

The Methodist Centenary Drive started in fine style. The first day showed Union over the top, with Thomaston and Cushing close followers, while Waldoboro, Friendship, Bremen, Swan's Island, South Thomaston and Spruce Head are well assured of victories before the week is up. Rev. M. E. Osborne, chairman of this group, is reporting daily to Bangor whence reports are being forwarded daily to Boston and New York. No church has any thought of falling down, but special credit is due Union for the large budget the church has for its size.

The annual meeting of the trustees of the Methodist Church with election of officers, takes place tonight at 8:30; also the annual meeting and election of officers of Epworth League.

CHIROPRACTIC EDUCATIONAL REQUIREMENTS

Occasionally it is asked in good faith how much education the CHIROPRACTOR has back of him. When the people learn that "CHIROPRACTIC" is more than a "punch in the back," they naturally wonder whether the profession stands upon educational preparative quality with other systems. Such is the case.

So far as subjects covered; hours actually spent; thoroughness in methods and laboratories, the work of the CHIROPRACTOR is equal, if not superior, to other Schools in many ways and methods.

The Palmer School of CHIROPRACTIC has a course of three years of six months each (18 months solid) five days per week, thirteen class hours a day—one day each week (Saturday) four class hours; study hours are apart from these. In point of hours, as much time is spent in the Palmer School of CHIROPRACTIC as is covered in three years of a Medical College.

The Palmer School has the Largest Free Clinic of its kind in the World, having an attendance of from 1500 to 2000 patients daily.

The following is a list of the studies taught at THE PALMER SCHOOL OF CHIROPRACTIC, and upon which the student must pass before graduating:—

Manager Pollock has moved into the house on Oak street which Mrs. Leila F. Bonner vacated when she became matron of the Home For Aged Women.

Conrad Howard, a High School student who is also usher at Park Theatre, has been wearing his port eye in a sing on account of blood-poisoning.

Kendrick Seales is convalescent, after six weeks' sickness, and is planning to go to New London, Conn., where he has prospective employment and a sweetheart.

The Red Cross knitting department will be open all day tomorrow and one week from tomorrow, for the distribution of yarn, which will be used during the summer in the knitting of socks and sweaters for war refugees. Will the members please make note of this and call for their yarn.

The proverbial weekend storm put a crimp in the two Knox county High School games which were planned for Saturday consequently the world is still in a state of suspense as to whether the Rockland champions would have gone over the top at Camden, and whether Thomaston High would have been converted into mince-meat on the granite island across the bay.

One of the local express drivers felt a hot pain over his heart the other day and began to do some worrying about his physical condition. His anxiety was relieved, but his activity was stimulated, when he found that a spark had dropped from his pipe, and set fire to his underclothing. The fire was extinguished without using the chemical, but Bert still hears occasionally about his mishap.

The executive committee of the High School Alumni Association met Friday evening with Mrs. Percy Roberts and made tentative plans for the annual reunion to the graduating class, which will be held on the evening of June 26 in Temple hall. A new feature this year will be brief speeches by members of the Association who were in the service. There will, of course, be music, speeches and dancing.

So much has been said about the Vinhaven High School team that everybody will want to see how it shapes up in the game against Rockland High on the Broadway ground tomorrow afternoon. If pitcher Mulvihill is in trim Vinhaven expects to win the pennant. Needless to say that Rockland is not ready to so soon part with the flag which it won after such a hard struggle last year. The game will be called at 3.30. Saturday afternoon the Lincoln Academy team plays here, and the game will be called at 2.30.

Charles Crouch of South Thomaston is at Knox Hospital, where one of his legs was amputated at the knee last Wednesday. His present condition promises speedy recovery.

The regular meeting of Miriam Rebekah Lodge will be held tonight. Circle supper at 6 o'clock. A silver collection will be taken at the meeting for the benefit of Odd Fellows Home Fund.

Harry M. Robinson of Warren was in the city yesterday, the guest of his brother, Charles L. Robinson. He goes Wednesday to Northeast Harbor to take up his annual duties as clerk of Asticou Inn.

The annual meeting of King Hiram's Shipmates will be held at Masonic Temple next Friday evening at 8 o'clock. The matter of an outing will be discussed. R. V. Stevenson is president of the organization and A. L. Mather is secretary.

The regular meeting of the Sons of Veterans Auxiliary will be held tomorrow night at 7.30 sharp. Regular circle supper at 6 o'clock in charge of Mrs. Amelia McIntosh. As this is the last meeting before Memorial Day and there will be important business to transact, every member is urged to attend.

Capt. W. D. Bennett has started his auto service between this city and Belfast, leaving Rockland 7 a. m. and 12.30 p. m., and Belfast at 10.40 a. m. and 3 p. m., commencing at Belfast with trains and auto for Bangor. The line is equipped with a big new Stanley steamer, and Capt. Bennett carries insurance to cover any accident that may happen to his passengers.

James Chisholm, who spent 10 months in France as a member of the 363d Field Artillery arrived home last week, and is enjoying a short vacation before resuming his former duties with the Maine Central Railroad. Mr. Chisholm participated in two weeks of actual bombardment. His homecoming was delayed by the fact that he just missed the transport which brought his unit.

A sanitary battle between two young men who represented opposite branches of the service, took place Saturday night near a local dance hall. The heavy artillery was slow in getting into action, but is said to have swamped the submarine chaser when it did get a-going. The outbreak is said to have been inspired by jealousy. Neither party in the fracas went to the hospital—or the brig, and peace has been restored.

When the authorities visited Mrs. Mary Murphy's place on Tillson avenue some days ago, they found no evidence that intoxicating liquor was being sold there, but the eagle eye of Thomas Hawken, the complainant, spotted a candy punch-board, and he caused a Rev. warrant to be issued for the seizure of it. Mrs. Murphy pleaded "guilty" in Municipal Court Saturday, but said she did not know that it constituted a violation of the law. Judge Miller reiterated that sufficient notice was given more than a year ago that such devices would not be tolerated and that jail sentences would be given. The maximum is four months. Judge Miller imposed a month's sentence in Mrs. Murphy's case. She appealed and furnished bail.

The "Beach Flirts" that are to be given away at the Arcade dance, Wednesday night, are on exhibition at Moore's drug store, where they are attracting a great deal of attention.

The highly amusing antics of a tropical bred monkey draw groups of children to Maple street each day. The animal was brought North by Mrs. Guy Nicholas, who has been spending the winter with her husband, Lieut. Dr. Nicholas in Colon, Canal Zone.

The Hassam Paving Company is speeding up on the Main street job. At the close of yesterday's labors the trolleys in which the cement is mixed had moved as far northward as Winter street. Some of the paving has been laid between the trolley car tracks, and the paving cutters "motion" has extended to "The Brook."

Chae Fai, proprietor of the well-known laundry at 356 Main street, returned last week from a trip to China, where for two and a half years he has visited his family friends in his native city of Canton, the laundry meantime being carried on by his brother, Mr. Fai came five years ago to Rockland, where his kindly manner and industry have won him friends and prosperity.

Urgent calls come to the libraries for more books for our men overseas. A good book is passed from hand to hand. An exciting western novel is read by a score of men in an incredibly short time and is ready to fall to pieces. Hence the cry for more and more books. "How can men idling the time away be expected not to gamble and get into other forms of evil?" declared a chaplain, writing in to the Paris Headquarters of the A. L. A. to ask for more books. "Send me everything you can as fast as you can." People of Rockland, please bring your book or books to the Public Library as soon as possible. The librarian is anxious to forward a box very soon.

A raising program has been prepared for the Baptist Men's League meeting tomorrow night, which is incidentally the 9th, the annual, and the last of the year. Sergeant Walter H. Butler will give a story of his experiences overseas, treating the subject from quite a different angle than any other local speaker has handled it. Sergeant Butler will discuss the work of the Sanitary Train, with which he was connected, and at the conclusion of his remarks there will be an open forum on the methods of war from Mr. Butler's standpoint. Several other young men who were in the service are to be guests, and may add a few remarks to what is expected to be a snappy meeting. Officers will be elected.

The May Victory ball, given under the auspices of Rockland Lodge of Elks takes place in the Arcade tonight. The concert will begin at 8 o'clock and will last one hour. The dancing will last from 9 to 12, interrupted only by the Elks' toast at 11 o'clock, and intermission at 11.45. The music will be furnished by Marston's Orchestra, augmented to 12 pieces. The decorating committee has been working day and night since last Saturday, and the result is bound to be very pleasing. The demand for ball tickets and balcony tickets has been very large, and there is scarcely any question but that the May Victory Ball is to synonymously with that stereotyped expression—"the event of the season." E. B. MacAllister is chairman of the ball and J. N. Southard is secretary and treasurer. The other members of the committee are E. H. Dickey, A. T. Blackington, L. K. Green, E. S. Levensaler, J. A. Frost, G. W. Proctor, F. M. Blackington, Walter Spear, L. L. Aylward, Thomas Anastasio, C. A. Mitchell, J. H. Hobbs, R. W. Jameson, C. A. Wright, W. W. Case, F. J. Simonin, Roy L. Knowlton and Charles E. Hecker.

Class 40 will hold a free social for all Juniors at the M. E. vestry Thursday evening from 7 to 9. Refreshments will be served.

Members of The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. Church will meet in the vestry of the church tonight at 7 o'clock. Important business.

The Harry C. Rogers property in Rockville has been sold through Edward L. Shaw's agency to Mrs. Annie Bucklin of Thomaston, who will reside there.

Fred T. Studley got quite a severe bumping Saturday forenoon when the seat of the grocery wagon which he was driving suddenly flipped backward. He was taken home unconscious, but suffered no permanent injuries and is back on the job this morning.

Knox Lodge of Odd Fellows conferred the initiatory degree upon L. N. Morgan and Guy E. Harnden last night. Next Monday night Mr. Eddie Lodge of Camden will work the second degree on the same candidates, and Knox Lodge will work the initiatory degree on J. C. Wiley, who will be served.

On account of unfavorable transportation conditions it is doubtful if more than 40 delegates will come to Rockland for tomorrow's State convention of the Maine Retail Dry Goods Association. The principal feature of the program will be in Temple hall, the program following closely the lines suggested in Secretary Marble's letter, which was published in Friday's issue of The Courier-Gazette. Automobile rides will be the principal feature of entertainment. Harry D. Benson of Bangor will probably be elected president.

D. D. Gould has resumed his duties as federal employment agent, after a spell of sickness which was cut short by prompt medical attention. The office on Spring street has been in charge of P. H. Fitzgerald of Augusta meantime. Mr. Gould has become an important factor in local industrial conditions since he came here several months ago, and an increasing appreciation of the government's work in establishing the office is being shown. There is absolutely no charge for those who seek employees or employment.

There was a large gathering of Council Members in this city last Friday when the degrees were conferred upon its candidates. An interesting interruption came at 6.30, when the Eastern Star women served a baked bean supper—unsurpassed as to quantity and quality. The candidates for degrees were Charles W. Kibany, Harry H. Brown, Marcus M. Condon, Maurice R. Snow, E. B. Richardson, Ernest A. Rogers, Fred L. Studley, Horace E. Stratton, Ralph H. Wight and Frank S. Wright of Rockland, Winfield Brackett, Henry H. Bucklin, Fred L. Lowell, Albert B. Davidson and Harold A. Gleason of Thomaston; Henry A. Johnson of Camden, Harold S. Cottrell of Rockport and Melville P. Jordan of Warren.

Afford's Lake was invaded by self-confessed Rockland amateurs last Thursday, the party being personally conducted by Ernest C. Davis, who gave his pupils the benefit of a veteran's experience. A bunch of payovers, less to wish his proverbial luck upon them. The Izank Walton disciples were Roy J. Edward Newton, Rev. M. E. Osborne and Arthur L. Orne. Mr. Davis saw to it that the men were garbed in the most approved sportsman style with red caps and caps to boot. They sang hymns, and modern popular songs, and Chairman Orne gave the Victory Loan yell—but all to no purpose, for the fish simply would not bite. Ernest was cruel enough to state that fish don't bite on weekdays, anyhow, but the others got even by praising Ernest's style of fishing, and in insisting upon his giving a continuous demonstration.

Two hundred Bibles presented by the churches of Rockland, and dedicated at Sunday afternoon's union service in the Methodist church, were distributed among the local hotels Sunday by Walter Robinson of Malden, Mass., representative of the Gideons, and some 20 assistants. The service included a brief address on "The Bible" by Rev. Howard A. Welch of the Littlefield Memorial Church; an address on "Gideons" by Rev. Mr. Allen of the Universalist Church, and the dedication of the Bibles by Rev. M. E. Osborne. The service was disappointingly small, but the service was much appreciated by those who did attend. The "Gideons" of modern times are an organization of Christian traveling men. Their work was presented by Mr. Robinson at the morning service in the Congregational Church and at the evening service in the Methodist Church.

The 8th Grade A of the Melain school spent Thursday afternoon at Oakland Park. On the hike about 20 different flowers and seven kinds of birds were seen. After an hour or so at the park the list of flowers was brought up to 31 and the birds to 12. As the school hours were up by this time the rest of the afternoon was spent in sports—cross-foot, wheelbarrow, running and endurance races, and a ball game with mixed teams of boys and girls. At 3.30 a tempting luncheon was served. Forty hungry persons disposed of this, and then all adjourned to the brook where an interesting hour was spent in studying poliwogs, lizards and other specimens of water life. Nearly everybody went in wading—intentionally or otherwise. The class brought home poliwogs, a lizard, and one lively specimen which they will gladly present to anyone who will give it a name and history. Opinions seem about equally divided between a crab, a water beetle, and a turtle, except one teacher who solemnly declared, on her word of honor, that it was a hum-bug. The class exempted on the $35 cent, a noisy, tired and happy crowd, but all agreed upon one thing—that outdoor nature-lessons should be a part of the regular school work.

MRS. CLIFFORD E. THOMAS
Alice B. (Colson) wife of Clifford E. Thomas died suddenly May 12 at her home, 19 Bay View square, after a few hours' illness. She had been in poor health the past year but of late seemed to be improving. The sudden death was a great shock to her relatives and friends. The deceased was born in Rockland Jan. 21, 1854. She is survived by her husband and four children—Fred B., of Dexter, Leroy C., Mrs. Frank Allen and Clifford, Jr., of this city; also her mother, Mrs. F. H. Jones of Worcester, Mass., a brother, G. L. R. Colson of New York, and a sister, Mrs. George Britto of Rockland. The funeral services were held Wednesday at the home of the daughter, Mrs. Allen, Rev. Howard A. Welch officiating.

Smooth Cylinders
Keep the Engine Powerful

Cylinder walls that are kept glassy smooth and perfectly round—that are free from scratches or scoring and coated with a film of oil that forms a gas-tight seal with snug fitting piston rings—that's the combination that insures full compression, smooth action and full power from every stroke of the pistons. It's what you get when you keep your engine correctly lubricated with Polarine.

Polarine meets the lubricating requirements of all types of engines.

It banishes friction and cushions bearings with a friction-free film—keeps compression tight, and minimizes wear on piston rings and cylinder walls—flows freely at all temperatures—stands high cylinder heat—burns up clean and goes out with the exhaust—saves overhauling and repair bills.

Polarine Gear Oil correctly lubricates transmission and differential gears. Keeps them running quietly and with minimum wear.

For sale by dealers and garages everywhere—look for the red, white and blue So-Co-Ny Sign.

LAMB AT MONTE CARLO

But Corporal Samuel Eugene Saw All the Sights of the Famous Resort Without Getting Shorn.

Corporal Samuel Eugene Lamb of the 1st Motor Truck Company journeyed into Italy a few weeks ago while on a furlough. What he saw is interestingly told in the following letter which was received at Lyons, France, April 2.

It is now middle of afternoon and we are many miles from our station at Lyons. The train is moving at 20 m. per hour. We came up over hills where there was about an inch of snow and frost and then down into this valley at the junction of the Rhone and Saone. It is the second or third largest city of France.

We got in touch with a Y. M. C. A. man after leaving the A. P. M. office and went to see some of the important places. We had the privilege of hearing the astronomical clock of Lyons' Cathedral strike at noon. It strikes only five times a day at 5 and 6 a. m. at 12 noon and 1 and 2 p. m. The striking mechanism is a wonderful work of art. When the time comes the left figure strikes three, the right figure strikes three, stretching out his neck and flapping his wings. Then the angels strike on the bells the tune of St. John the Baptist's hymn, "ut queant laxis." The right hand figure beats the time, while the angel Gabriel steps out to salute the blessed Virgin, who turns to him and bows. After that the ceiling opens and the Holy Ghost, in shape of a dove, comes down above her head, while God, the Father, blesses her three. Their parts being played, the actors become motionless again and the hour strikes on a big bell in the center of the top of the clock. It would take too long now to describe each automatic figure or the dial plates.

The only soldiers here are Military Police, except those waiting over a few hours for trains, like ourselves. Plenty of actors here, and not so bad looking at that.

April 3—Monte Carlo. Have arrived at last. The whole train was some crowded, but the car I was in got a hot box on one of the wheels and shaft and burnt out so bad they had to run it on a siding in the next town. We crowded in with some other fellows coming this way from Luxembourg on leave. They were hand boys.

We landed in Monaco about 2:30 p. m. After having our papers stamped, etc., we were taken to Hotel Harter of Mediterranean. My room has a long French window overlooking the sea. I can hear the water splashing. I can see the water splashing. I can see the water splashing.

April 4—Had breakfast at 8 instead of 6 this morning. Plenty to wait on and no dishes to wash afterward. After dinner we walked up to the station of the railroad that goes up the mountains. We got our tickets and took the first train up. Believe me it was steep too. There was one peak in the distance, and we could see a fort at the top. The total height is 3,400 ft.

April 5—After breakfast we started out to see the Casino de Monte Carlo, the famous gambling house of the world. We had to take our luggage for they do not allow too large a party to go in at once.

Talk about your pretty buildings! I think it one of the finest to be found. I would like to have all you people see the inside of this building. For I cannot describe it as I wish. The walls are paneled off between the pillars and large pictures painted on them. All the stone work is polished marble, with such handsome grains, running through it. The floors are hard wood, set in small blocks of different patterns. There are a number of rooms set up with tables, etc. Some are for more exclusive parties and only people with plenty of money use these rooms. Down stairs there's a large music hall where they have an orchestra that plays most of the day. We came out of the Casino on the side facing the sea. It was a pretty scene.

We took a car for Menton, a neighboring town, so to cross the border into Italy. It was nearly noon before we left the railway car, then had to walk about half a mile before we came to the bridge which is half in France and half in Italy. Not far beyond the bridge we came to a hotel and an M. P. so we knew we had gone the limit. We had dinner in Girmaldi, Italy, at Hotel Miramar. It consisted of ham and eggs with fried potatoes, one sardine, bread and sweet white Italian wine.

The Italian women here in these border towns are very handsome and you can tell one in a minute by her complexion.

April 6—Spent the evening at "Y. M." There was a band concert first, then the Prince of Monaco was presented. The band then played the three national hymns, and everyone stood at attention. Then an officer presented the Commander of this leave area for U. S. Government an army man of 20 years standing. He in turn introduced the Prince, who gave a short address in English to the boys of the U. S. A.

April 7—We took a car at 7 for Menton and changed there for our trip into the hills. The name of the place is Sospel. The track goes in and out among the hills over bridges, but all the time it keeps on going up higher. Suddenly we entered a tunnel which was for a long way and came out in another valley. This tunnel passes under an old Chateau and village on top of the mountain. From there to the end of the line was a down grade along the mountain sides, which was very steep.

When we left the car we looked the village over and then had a lot of time left, so we started out to walk up to a fort on top of a hill. Just before reaching our fortification we came to a barbed wire entanglement which ran around the outside a little ways. You could see where they had set their machine guns to defend this path. We went around the outside wall a long ways, and I got inside one of the sentry boxes made in the wall that looks out over the valley below. Then we followed around onto the other side a little ways and oh, what a sight! Off in the distance we could see mountains for a long way on the horizon, all covered with snow. We had field glasses and it was magnificent looking over those hills.

We came down over the face of the mountain where the rocks would give us a chance to get a foot hold, until we got down two or three hundred feet or more, where it was more passable, but still rocky. When we first left the wall we followed the fagged dug in the solid rock, and there were places to set machine guns to command all places.

Half way down we struck paths over which the asses haul the grapes down to the valley, so we picked our way better from there to the main road.

We stopped at a cafe and had dinner before getting a car back to Menton. We asked how high up the fort was and was told 25 metres. The village was 358 metres above the sea. So you see we were up in the world some. Got down to Menton at 6 o'clock and took car back to Monte Carlo.

April 8—Did not arise until after 8. Went to breakfast, they call it, but I call it anything but that. All you get is coffee and bread with a little jam or sauce of some kind. We got enough, though, such as it is, so why worry, for there are a great many people who can't have that much. After dinner we walked down to Monaco and up to the Museum (Musée Oceanographique) on the point. All enlisted men can go through the museum free, so in we went and took in all the sights. It is a wonderful place and it has taken many years and lots of money to get the large collection together.

April 9—It is Wednesday afternoon and my pleasure trip is coming to an end all too soon. We didn't go far from hotel before dinner. After dinner went down on the shore front of the hotel and watched the breakers coming in on the rocks; also saw some moon fishing. They had no better luck than we've had many times in past at Alford. All the time I was there they only one got a bite.

April 10—This morning have been looking for shells and pretty pebbles. The shells seemed very scarce until I noticed some on a rock, which the waves kept coming up around. I worked between waves and got quite a few.

child's health

It is a fact which many mothers have been obliged to admit, that their children, otherwise perfectly healthy, are sufferers from worms, which cause distressing symptoms familiar to parents. If your child is thin, nervous, restless at night, look for worms, and if present, don't delay using the safe and proper remedy, "L. F." Atwood's Medicine. The following testimonials were unsolicited: "I have raised seven children to manhood and womanhood keeping them well by using the True 'L. F.' Atwood's Medicine. I find it a sure and excellent remedy for worms with which so many children are tormented." Mrs. C. A. Treadwell, Naples, Me. "My little girl used to have worms and would be sick three or four days at a time. I began the use of the True 'L. F.' Medicine and she has not had a sick spell since." Mrs. Ida M. Nason, Clinton, Me. Get a bottle for 50 cents from your dealer for sixty teaspoonful doses or write us today. The "L. F." Medicine Co. Portland, Me.

IN AN OBSERVATION BALLOON

Lieut. Arthur R. Stubbs Fought the Germans in the Argonne Sector from Mid-Air.

Lieut. Arthur R. Stubbs, who viewed the closing scenes of the European war from the vantage ground of an observation balloon, has been spending a few days with his father E. M. Stubbs, Lincoln street, before resuming his position in the First National Bank of Boston.

Lieut. Stubbs, who was killed by a burning balloon falling on top of his parachute. The company also had a hand in blowing a hole in the important railroad line between Montfaucon and Sedan.

At the front captive balloons were operated at a height of from 1000 to 1500 meters, according to visibility. First Lieut. Stubbs said that the captive balloon is a creation of the present war. The English inaugurated hot air and gas balloons. The Germans developed the captive balloon, which proved an unsteady affair. A Frenchman named Lieut. Stubbs improved it enormously by adding fins, a rudder and an internal diaphragm so that the balloon rode at a horizontal angle, directly over the wind on the ground. It furnished a stable observation post which could be connected by telephone and radio directly with the artillery and staff command posts.

The functions of the observation balloon are primarily to regulate artillery fire on distant targets; to pick up moving targets, such as such as ammunition and railroad trains and to direct the artillery fire against them; to discover and accurately locate hostile battery positions; to effect a liaison with the infantry; to report movements of troops, and to report the employment of labor in constructing and improving aerial positions; and to report results of aerial combats. Sometimes two men occupied the observation balloons, but generally one served, and there were trained lookouts on the ground together with an anti-aircraft machine gun defense. On the event of an enemy's airship's approach while the observation balloon is up, the latter descends to the height of about 300 meters, and its occupants come to the ground by parachute if such a course is necessary.

The First Army lost 25 balloons in the Argonne attack and the air service is figured as having destroyed 50 Boche planes. Lieut. Stubbs' company is credited with having brought down two planes by ground machine gun fire, over by the first of October, which month was spent in capturing isolated strong points, straightening the line and improving the rear positions by the construction of much needed roads and the moving forward of artillery, ammunition and rations.

Now, I was begun the final attack in which the Americans had determined to win all or lose all. The forces fought their way through through Romagne, Montfaucon, through Banville, to Remonville, to Bonancy to Nogent, to Beaumont. The last named place was the most northerly point of advance. Nov. 10 preparations were made to operate to the eastward and across the Meuse river at the city of Stenay, which was the Crown Prince's headquarters during the early battles of Verdun. On the following day the armistice was signed.

The 8th Balloon Company aided in the destruction of machine gun replacement.

Lieut. Stubbs had a high school education in the French language and this supplemented by diligent study when he found that there was a likelihood of his going overseas. In France he lost no opportunity of perfecting a knowledge of the language and succeeded to such an extent that he was able to study French customs and conditions much more advantageously. He found his way through the institutions of the Argonne-Meuse sector near Montfaucon, through Banville, to Remonville, to Bonancy to Nogent, to Beaumont. Do You Pay 66¢ for Sirloin Steak? — or 33 Cents?

We serve all tastes

A recent Government bulletin quoted sirloin steak in different cities at prices ranging from 33 to 66 cents!

We buy live cattle, according to quality, all the way from $7.00 to $20.00 per hundred-weight, live weight. Sirloins from these cattle vary greatly in quality.

Some retailers sell 33 cent sirloins. These steaks come from cheaper cattle.

Customers of other retailers demand choice sirloins at 66 cents. These retailers buy meat from higher-priced cattle.

Also, the retailer who carries complete stocks, delivers to your door, and lets you run a charge account, has to get higher prices than the retailer who runs a "cash and carry" store.

We sell beef of a given quality at practically the same price all over the country—except for slight differences due to freight rates.

And our profit hardly affects the price at all—only a fraction of a cent per pound.

SALVATION ARMY'S HISTORY

Is Full of Romance and Of Unselfish Devotion To The Task Of Saving Lives and Souls.

The history of the Salvation Army is full of romance. It was organized in London, Eng., in July, 1865, as the Christian Mission, by Gen. William Booth. The general, who got his title from his rank in the Salvation Army, was a powerful Methodist evangelist, who finding that the churchless masses could not be reached through the methods he was pursuing, decided to organize a society along lines which would obtain the desired results.

In 1878 the mission was changed into the Salvation Army and the work of that great organization began in earnest. General Booth, who was born at Nottingham, England, April 10, 1829, and who died at London, Aug. 20, 1912, had as a wonderfully able assistant in his work his wife, Catherine Booth, born in 1829, and who died in 1900. She was rated one of the most powerful and eloquent women speakers of the century, and as the Mother of the Salvation Army was a tremendous factor in striving it in the right way. With two such splendid organizers behind the movement is it any wonder that it soon became world renowned and spread rapidly into almost every corner of the globe?

It was organized along military lines so as to have all of the force of a military organization, and one of its cardinal planks was the absolute equality of woman with man in the handling of its affairs and in the holding of its offices. One of the greatest features of its program was its strong stand for temperance, no one being allowed to belong unless he or she agreed to abstain from the use of liquor and to continue to do so after joining. As a result of this requirement hundreds of thousands of confirmed drunkards have been reformed. It chose as its work that which the church failed to reach, and that which called for constant living in the slums of the great cities. Its efforts were devoted to building up the moral and spiritual side of the human being who was supposed to be so low that his case was hopeless. No hours were too long for its workers, no dive was too dangerous to penetrate, no persons too far gone to try to save, no home too filthy for the Salvation Army lassie or her male assistant to enter.

In a short time its operations had spread to 40 countries, embracing nearly 8,000 posts, in charge of over 40,000 officers and employees, with over 45,000 local officers, 16,000 brass bandmen, and about 50,000 other musicians. About 7,000 fallen women annually pass through the great numbers of rescue homes, between 80 and 90 per cent of whom are restored to useful lives.

Over 1,500 ex-convicts annually pass through the prison gate homes, the great majority of whom are saved from returning to their former careers of crime. The number of conversions each year averages about 250,000, the percentage later falling from grace being comparatively small. It is estimated that between 200,000 and 300,000 have been saved by the army from a drunkard's grave. The organization has now reached tremendous proportions and so when the war broke out the Salvation Army thought nothing of adding a great department to handle this phase of endeavor without in the least interfering with its regular program.

HAS BAFFLED EVERYBODY

St. Paul Newspaper Reviews Rockland Murder Mystery and Quotes London Newspaper Reporter Who Is Said To Looked Ground Over.

Some idea of the far reaching interest which is still manifested in the Brown murder case may be judged by the newspaper articles which appear from time to time in various parts of the country. A friend sends us a copy of the St. Paul (Minn.) Daily News of May 9, in which the following article appeared.

The murder of Mrs. Carolyn Welt Brown, Rockland society woman who was beaten to death the night of Dec. 30 already has passed into criminal history as one of Maine's unsolved mysteries.

Of the scores of investigators, amateur and professional, who probed every possible clue in these vividly eventful days following the tragedy, not one possesses more than his own blind guess or shadowy theory. No more is known today—or, barring some wholly unexpected revelation—ever will be known than on the morning of Jan. 2, when Mrs. Brown's body was found upon the snow in a field fronting upon Limerock street.

Moreover, Rockland already has forgotten—and with deliberate intent.

Strange though it may seem, this most subtle and baffling of recent New England mysteries is less frequently mentioned. Rockland simply had enough of it; the subject was dropped by a sort of tacit, mutual consent—the little seacoast city resumed its placid way, and the nervous terror into which its womenkind had been lashed for weeks following the discovery, passed like—well, like the shadow of some uneasy dream.

A London newspaper reporter who visited Rockland on the chance of stumbling upon some clue overlooked in the feverish days of the investigation, as often has been one in murder mysteries; established one fact to his definite satisfaction—there is no "other clue." It was like visiting a theatre on the morning following a drama, when the footlights have been extinguished and the softening are turned to dabs of paint in the light of day. There were the same scenes, the same people—and these people told what they knew; but the fascination of it all—and murder can be exceedingly fascinating sometimes—had vanished. It was an unprofitable sort of aftermath.

Some day, somehow, by some unguarded slip or twist of fate, the murderer of Mrs. Brown may be revealed. But so far as any further effort by the authorities is concerned, or so far as anything is known by the dead woman's family and neighbors and friends, he is absolutely unsuspected and hence absolutely safe. The curtain has fallen. However, the visit was not without one or two rather interesting features.

There was, for example, the moral satisfaction of getting a little interview with the one official who, in those strenuous days of the investigation, sometimes answered leading questions, but never permitting himself to be drawn into an expression of opinion—Henry L. Withee, county attorney. "Mr. Withee," his interviewer asked "what is your theory? Do you believe that Mrs. Brown was killed for some form of jealousy or revenge—that it was, as many believe, a society crime?" "No, I do not. I have no fixed and unalterable theory; my mind is open to any new development. But, from all of the evidence now at hand, I believe it to be merely the work of a degenerate. "So that, if there was a romantic and social side, the authorities failed to find it?" "Correct." "But could so desperate a criminal— a man guilty of cold-blooded and absolutely brutal murder—live weeks and

Dry, Comfortable Feet and Legs Make The Day's Hard Work Easier

It certainly makes a big difference to your health and pocketbook, when your feet and legs are snug and warm in sturdy U. S. "Protected" rubber boots.

Seas may rage, spray may pelt—but heavy service, double-duty "U. S." is reinforced for hard usage and wards off wet and chill.

There's comfort, economy and thorough reliability in U. S. "Protected" rubber boots. They outwear ordinary rubber boots because they are built staunch and true by patented process. During the war the Government probably used more U. S. "Protected" rubber boots than of all other makes combined.

The "U. S. Seal"—trade mark of the largest rubber manufacturer in the world is on every pair of "U. S." It is placed there for your guidance and protection. Look for this seal. Wear the kind of U. S. "Protected" rubber boots that your needs require. Your dealer has it or can get it quickly.
